Chris: It is really great to hear from you and please give all my regards to Brian. Let me know a good time early next week, so we can talk and coordinate all of our efforts in this matter. We have a lot going on in these cases, so we think it is always helpful to simply update the Court, at least to let them know what is going on in the various courts. We now have excellent bankruptcy co-counsel (Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones LLP) whom your team has already been coordinating with and I hope will continue such great cooperation. We need to be coordinated in both forums.

I am sure you know the background of our different Voyager cases, but just to be sure, our original Voyager class action case is pending before Chief Judge Altonaga, but was stayed as a result of the Voyager's bankruptcy filing. The actions of Voyager's counsel in that case may be revisited, because I am not sure I would have represented to the Court (on numerous occasions) that there was "no risk" of any delay, when at the same time, they might have been secretly preparing and filed, an extensive bankruptcy petition.

The Court in our second class action case briefly administratively stayed our proceedings, after you filed your motion (but before we responded) and until the next bankruptcy hearing, so we think it might be beneficial to the Court (who can certainly decide), if we all give a brief update at the end of the month, as to what is happening in the different forums. I think we can all agree that our direct claims against Mr. Cuban, might be treated differently than the claims against Mr. Erlich and those against Voyager directly, but those are matters for a later day. Moreover, we now have great co-counsel in our district court actions, in Mr. Steve Zack and Judge Ungaro, and their law firm, Boies, Schiller, Flexner, so it is always great to initially meet via Zoom in our class cases, so we can put a face to the name.

Our clients may not agree on all of the issues, but I do know that with you and Brian, we will always have a professional and cooperative channel. Thanks and have a great weekend, Adam
